Elvis' saddle from Circle G Ranch.

Mike made this for himself at Circle G when he went to work for Elvis. Elvis used the saddle and liked it better than the other ones at the ranch; it became Elvis' favorite saddle and Mike gave it to him. Some time later, (about the time Mike and the horses were moved to Graceland), he made another saddle from the same pattern with a little more tooling on it and traded the new one for the original. Most pictures you see of Elvis on Rising Sun at the ranch, are on this saddle. It is marked, "Maker Mike McGregor Circle G Ranch Horn Lake, MS."

Tribute to Elvis, hand written & signed by Carl Perkins on the 20th anniversary of Elvis' death, 1997. Carl and Mike were both on the program that night. When Carl finished speaking and left the stage with this written version still in his hand, Mike asked if he could have it to display at his shop. Carl signed and dated it; it's on the back of a photo of Carl.

This is just as written:

"20 Years Ago"
Time really does pass us by, everyday somebody Says man time just flies. And time usually does ease the hurt when someone passes away-
In most things that true, but Elvis thats some Thing we cant say about you-
Just about every day somebody says Carl Perkins
When will this Elvis phenomenon go away-
I gladly say never man, why should that ever be-
Elvis is in the pages of History
How can he ever be forgotten when he gave the world so much.
Music like the world had never heard
More than music Elvis gave us love-
No one before him moved the world more
Than he did
He touched the hearts of us all the Old Folk & the kid
See I had thrill of working with you Elvis
When we both were starting out.
But you were so different from all the rest
I never had a doubt.
I watched you rise from Union Ave
To conqer Hollywood.
If anybody could have done Elvis I knew you could.
If you can take a look back, and you'll find so. The world loves you as much today as 20 years ago-

Carl Perkins '97

Desk used in Mr. Vernon Presley's House on Dolan while Elvis & Priscilla lived there.

Antique cherry secretary used while Graceland's upstairs was being renovated and Elvis and Priscilla lived at Vernon's home on Dolan. When they moved back into Graceland Mr. Vernon Presley offered it to Mike. Mike couldn't use it so Vernon sold it to me, Kim Taylor. It is in good condition, just as it was when I bought it. There are a few marks on it that Mister Vernon blamed on "them boys."
